John P. Swasey for Congress.

Oxford County has reason to regard with profound satisfaction the outcome of the intense contest for the Republican nomination for Representative to Congress from the Second Maine District, which closed with the choice of Hon. John P. Swasey at the convention of last Tuesday in Lewiston. Never was there a more striking demonstration, unqualified and spontaneous, of loyalty to one's own than has been given by the Republicans of Oxford County during the convention and in the scenes which preceded and followed it. It should be a pleasant memory to Mr. Swasey, as well as to all who participated in it, through all their lives.

Mr. Swasey hardly needs introduction to any person in the district, least of all in Oxford County. Probably there is not another man in the county who personally knows and is known by so many of the people of the county as Mr. Swasey. For a brief matter of biography it may be stated that he was born in Canton, which has always been his home, Sept. 4, 1839. He served as lieutenant in the Seventeenth Maine Regiment from April, 1862, to November, 1863. In 1874 he was a member of the Maine House of Representatives, and in 1875 and 1876 a member of the Senate, and in 1883 a member of the executive council. He was admitted to the bar in 1883, and has since had a large and successful law practice. Combined with his thorough legal learning and his quickness of mental action, his gift as a speaker has given him special fame as an eloquent advocate.

In politics Mr. Swasey has always been a Republican, always ready to assist a party when called upon, but never a hide-bound partisan, nor a "politician" in the sense of the term. We believe he will, as he promised in the convention, represent not only the Republicans of this district, but the people of the district. He has been a warm admirer of President Roosevelt, and that steadfastness of purpose and unflinching honesty of which the president is known as the embodiment is the ideal which Mr. Swasey may be confidently expected to follow in all his public service. We look for him to be a representative who will honor his district and be a worthy successor to the list of distinguished men who have represented us in the halls of congress.

A law partnership has just been formed between Congressman Littlefield of Rockland and his son, Charles W. Littlefield. The office will be located in New York. The junior member of the firm is a graduate of Yale College and Harvard Law School.

With this service we should have a pressure of 80 pounds at Market Square, and Mr. Chase assures us that with the size of pipe named we can throw five solid streams to a height of sixty feet—something much different from what we have ever seen.

Mr. Chase's estimate of cost of construction of the entire system, with new pipes laid not less than six feet deep in the village, is $10,000, or, for contingencies, $15,000 at the outside.

Numerous questions were asked of Mr. Chase, and all the requested information was fully given.

The meeting was purely informal, and no action was taken. It is recognized that there is a necessity and a universal desire for a water system much improved over what we have, and much sentiment in favor of municipal ownership of the system, and it was left with the water committee to prepare for such action looking to that end as their judgment may dictate.

Couldn't Get Water Over the Eaves.

PRETTY POOR PROTECTION FOR OUR FINE STREET PROPERTY.

A test was made Friday night immediately after the supper hour which showed pretty conclusively the insufficiency of the fire protection which we now have.

As is well known, there is one hydrant on Pine Street, which is supplied by a four-inch main on the north side of the street.

Two streams were then put on, and with these water could be thrown on to the roofs of the porticoes over the building.

Three streams were tried, and though there was no measurement of their performance, the best way of describing it is to say that they went about as high as a tall man could reach.

The test that the general attention of the situation was made to be in our high school house should take fire.

It is only a mental and moral peculiarity, has been called to the fact that a large part of the hydrants in the village, of the main line of pipe, are supplied by four-inch pipes, which are too small to give good fire service, and that several sections of the village would be almost if not quite as badly off in case of fire as Pine Street.

A. R. and children of the public schools under direction of their teachers, and all patriotic people are cordially invited to participate in the ceremonies of the day.

The line will be formed in front of G. A. R. Hall at 10 o'clock a. m., and led by the Glee Band, which will march to Riverside Cemetery where will be held the usual exercises of decorating the graves.

At the conclusion of the march will be by way of the soldiers' monument to High Street, thence to G. A. R. Hall, where a free dinner will be given the Comrades and Sons of Veterans. Afternoon services at G. A. R. Hall at 1:30 o'clock p. m. W. S. Robinson of Hartford will deliver the address.

Fire from burning brush piles just above the railroad bridge Saturday afternoon got under these in the care of it, and burned up pretty near the lower end of the Mason Manufacturing Co.'s yard, which is full of piles of sawed lumber.

It was directly toward the mill yard, it was fortunate that a small piece of land had been plowed where the river bank and the mill yard are separated.

There had been no fire even if there had been one to look out for it. A line of hose was laid, but it was not necessary to use it as the fire was checked by other means.

The Projected Water System.

At Engine House Hall Friday evening an informal meeting of citizens was held to give the people an opportunity to meet and talk with the engineer in charge of the project.

Mr. Chase outlined the project as projected at the present stage. In brief, it is planned to run a six-inch pipe, over a route which has been laid out, from the reservoir built last fall on the Cooper Spring Brook, to a pressure reservoir somewhere near the Hooper's Lodge road, at a height of 200 feet.

From the reservoir, the pipe will be approximately two and a half miles of this six-inch pipe. The plan for the reservoir allow a capacity of 200,000 gallons—a goodly amount of water.

Mr. Chase reckoned will furnish five solid fire streams to a height of 60 feet.

Non John P. Swasey Wins.

Nominated for Congress on the First Ballot Tuesday.

A Convention that will Always be Remembered in the Second Maine District.

Well, it was a great convention. With a generation there has never been more than one other in Maine to compare with the one of Oxford County.

And better than the friends of John P. Swasey had dared to hope, he was nominated on the first ballot, by a vote of 212 to 123 for Sewall, and 17 for Wing.

The Republican convention of the Second Congressional District was held at the Auburn station on Tuesday.

It was the largest and most successful candidate for Representative to Congress, to succeed Hon. Charles E. Littlefield.

Mr. Chase outlined the project as projected at the present stage. In brief, it is planned to run a six-inch pipe, over a route which has been laid out, from the reservoir built last fall on the Cooper Spring Brook, to a pressure reservoir somewhere near the Hooper's Lodge road, at a height of 200 feet.
